

Ekone Ranch Camper Agreement

Dear Campers,

You will be sharing your camp experience with approximately 20 other children and your safety and theirs is very important to us. The staff and horses will work hard to teach you about riding, keep you safe, and help you have a good time while at camp. In return, you will be expected to participate fully in ranch life and maintain a positive attitude.

There are certain things that must be done everyday in order for us all to live at Ekone. These include preparing and cleaning up after meals, feeding and caring for the animals, weeding and harvesting the garden, taking care of the buildings and land, maintaining trails for the horses, laughing and playing together, encouraging each other, getting plenty of rest, drinking lots of good Ekone water, and giving lots of hugs. We will all work together as a family while we are here to get our chores done and still leave plenty of time for fun!

We have a few rules at Ekone, and everyone is expected to follow them:

Respect yourself, the staff and other campers. Do not bring candy, portable music devices or phones, matches or lighters, tobacco or illegal drugs, bad attitudes, bad language or anything else you know would be unacceptable.

Participate fully and willingly do your share. The staff at Ekone are here to keep you safe and to help you have a good time, they are not here to clean-up after you or baby-sit you.

Listen carefully and pay attention. This is important to keep you and everyone else safe, and to make sure that we all have a chance to learn as much as we can while at camp.

If you are unwilling to follow these rules and your behavior negatively affects the safety and well-being of other campers, you will be asked to leave camp immediately with no refund.

If you are willing to follow these rules, please sign your name below.
